Informed Consent

Consultation Services by DDT&TS During the Covid-19 Outbreak

The purpose of this document is to inform the Dual Diagnosis Treatment and Training Services clients, support teams and families of requirements that will need to be met before the consult team meets with the client, support teams and families in person due to the Covid-19 outbreak. The information below provides details on restrictions on travel to certain areas of the state, precautions the team will be taking and considerations for agreeing to have in-person services and alternatives if the team chooses to forgo in-person services. DDT&TS is committed to continuing to provide services in a safe manner during this outbreak.

General Information

- DDT&TS will follow the mask policy of the agency/school in which the client receives services; families will be asked if they would like DDT&TS to wear masks while observing in their home
- If day service/residential services have additional restrictions, DDT&TS will abide by those restrictions
- DDT&TS to schedule travel to previously restricted counties starting March 1st, 2021

Travel Restrictions

- Social distancing rules will need to be followed by DDT&TS staff while working in the home/residential service/day service
- All DDT&TS staff will be wearing masks if required by the client's support team and using hand sanitizer and hand sanitizing wipes to minimize exposure to Covid-19.
- If space is not available to allow for social distancing during entrance and exit meetings, then those meetings will be held via phone/video conference
- Staff will postpone all observations if experiencing any symptoms consistent with Covid-19 or if they have been exposed to COVID-19

Precautions

- Please be advised that it is still possible for vaccinated persons to carry the virus according to current knowledge per the CDC. This means it is possible for vaccinated persons to pass COVID-19 to others, especially those who have not been vaccinated
- Teams agree to provide accurate daily information regarding possible exposure, illness or suspicion of illness to the consult team working in the home/day service/residential service
    - Teams may report information to their consultant at any time; a team/agency representative will be identified to ensure the following information is communicated to DDT&TS prior to entering any homes/agencies
    - Consultants will ask the following questions prior to traveling to the home/residential service/day service
        - Does anyone currently have a fever?
        - Has anyone had a fever in the past 24 hours?
        - If anyone has had a fever, have they been fever free without medications for 72 hours?
        - Do you have any suspicion that you or anyone else in the home/residential service/day service has been exposed to Covid-19 in the last 14 days?

Alternative Services

- Alternative services are available for teams that forego in-person consults
- Consultants can engage in video conferencing with teams to discuss general recommendations but cannot provide a function-based recommendation without observing the challenging behavior directly
- Teams can provide video footage of the challenging behavior to consultants for review
- Teams can set up live streaming of the client for consultants to observe the client in real time remotely
- As always, teams can continue to provide data to consultants

Events leading to suspension of services

- Any member of the team/household/residential service coming into contact with a confirmed case of Covid-19
- Any member of the team/household/residential service being confirmed as having Covid-19 or extreme suspicion that Covid-19 is present but testing has been denied to the person
- Any member of the team/household/residential service showing symptoms of Covid-19 as outlined by the CDC
- Any member of the team/household/residential service having a fever of 100.4 or higher.

Inherent risks exist in continuing with in-person treatment services. There is increased risk of contracting Covid-19, although those risks have been minimized to the extent possible per CDC guidelines. Individuals who are very young, old, or have underlying health conditions are at an increased risk for severe complications because of Covid-19, up to and including hospitalization. Teams should follow CDC and local health official guidelines if anyone is ill or feel they have contracted Covid-19. Even with precautions, DDT&TS cannot guarantee that teams, families or clients will not come into contact with Covid-19 or that transmission will not occur.

By signing this document parents/guardians are providing consent to receive in-home services with DDT&TS. Parents/guardians also agree to follow the guidelines listed in this document. Your signature acknowledges that you have read this document, you have asked questions as needed and you understand the information outlined above. You also agree to assume the risk (listed here or otherwise) with receiving in-person services from the Parsons State Hospital Dual Diagnosis Treatment and Training Services Team and you do not hold DDT&TS liable or responsible for potential transmission of Covid-19.

You may end the consent at any time, without notice, by informing your consultant and DDT&TS Director Stephanie Luther (stephanie.luther@ks.gov). Ending consent will lead to an immediate stop to in-person services. You may restart services by signing a new consent form. Ending consent for services or failing to provide consent for services does not end your services with DDT&TS and will not impact future services with DDT&TS, either during the Covid-19 outbreak or after the Covid-19 outbreak.

Parents/guardians who are uncomfortable with in-person services during this time are not required to continue in-person services. Please see above alternate means for engaging in services. Your consultation and services will remain open and will resume as usual when appropriate (e.g., the outbreak has ended, shelter in place orders have ceased, comfort levels change, etc.).
