

Wraparound Facilitation Training Post Meeting Responsibilities

Waiver Rules Covered

Let's review some of the rules established by the waiver for this phase of the process:

- The POC can be reviewed at any time if you, the family or other team members believe there is a need.
- If you serve in both roles of TCM and WAF you often will be switching hats – doing both jobs. As you do so keep in mind that Wraparound Facilitation, and thus expectations about Wraparound Facilitator responsibilities, is established by the waiver as a separate and unique service. You cannot bill for TCM services at the same time you are acting as Wraparound Facilitator. For example if you are facilitating the wraparound meeting and make input as the CM, you only can bill as the WAF.
- An annual wraparound meeting and an annual evaluation of the need for waiver services is required. The clinician (QMHP) responsible for the POC is also responsible for the annual evaluation. As the WAF you need to check and ensure the annual evaluation takes place. The date for completion is the month of the annual anniversary of the date on the Family Choice Assurance Document.
